Is Suicide the Unpardonable Sin? People often answer yes to this question because suicide leaves no room for repentance; a person enters eternity with unconfessed and therefore unforgiven sin. But nowhere does the Bible say that suicide is an unforgivable or unpardonable sin. Is suicide the unpardonable sin? My cousin had very serious emotional problems most of her life, and finally they overwhelmed her and she committed suicide. I firmly believe she was a Christian, but did she lose her salvation by doing this? Is there any hope for the family or friends of a believer who has committed suicide? Does the Bible teach that suicide is the unforgivable sin? Many people respond to this question with a simple yes. They will say that suicide allows for no repentance of the sin committed and therefore is an unpardonable sin. The Unpardonable Sin (only applies to the living, and then only unto Christians) it is the denial of the Holy Spirit. The sin of suicide is unforgivable, because all sin can only be forgiven after confessing them unto the Lord with our mouths as we live and breathe.

Still, the questions arise: What are the spiritual implications of suicide? Is suicide the unpardonable sin? What does God say on this subject? The answers to these questions and a host of related ones are found in this book. The purpose of this book is to share God's truth about suicide and to comfort the hearts of those who hecfran-modelismo.com: Vicki-Lynn Wilson.

The only unpardonable sin is our persistent, willful rejection of the light of truth, in favor of the darkness of lies Jesus called it blaspheming the Holy Spirit. Many of us are committing suicide daily, although slowly, by the way we live our lives. The specific unforgivable sin Jesus has in mind is not suicide, but rather associating the Holy Spirit with the work of Satan. Suicide is mentioned only six times in the whole Bible, but when it is mentioned there is no moral evaluation given as to whether it is right or wrong (Editor: the 6th commandment provides the moral evaluation): 1. Despairing of life, someone commits suicide. The survivors learn of the tragic, final act. All the possibilities for that life come to an abrupt and shocking end. Is that it? Is there no more hope for him? Has he committed an act for which there is no forgiveness? Many wonder whether suicide is the unpardonable sin. Is it? God will not fail in His mercy. It would be difficult to argue that suicide is not a sin, for it is the taking of a human life, or to put it bluntly, murder. The Bible clearly expresses the sanctity of human life (Exodus). God is the author of life, thus, the giving and taking of life ought to remain in his hands (Job). Suicide is not related to the "unforgivable sin," however. The Gospel of Mark shows that the unforgivable act is a strange kind of blasphemy: to say that the spirit of power in Jesus the Holy Spirit is an evil spirit.
